President's Perspective

Welcome to 2022!

Tony Kiser

as our annual casino night fundraiser and board installation banquet.

What a challenging time to be in the contracting business—from not knowing what parts and materials will be in stock to continued labor shortages to unprecedented price increases across equipment and other necessities. Here at PBACCA, with the mindset of safety for all, we made the shift to virtual board meetings, set aside general membership meetings, and cancelled events such as our annual casino night fundraiser and board installation banquet. It is also a great time to be in the contacting business. From 2021-2025, Florida looks to increase its residents each year, which translates to expected growth in our industry. We have efficiency changes on the horizon for both residential and commercial units as well as new, more environmentally-conscious refrigerant changes just behind. Whether we want to or not, as an industry we are being challenged to rise above such obstacles and to achieve more and better. We have used ingenuity to fix shortcomings and missing material, managed staffing shortages, and come out on top. That's what we do—we are HVAC champions.

Within PBACCA, we are looking forward to reinstating more in-person events this year. General member meetings will hopefully recommence in February 2022. Our air show is on the books for this coming spring, bringing with it the opportunity to see old and new faces. In the fall, we plan to celebrate our apprenticeship program graduates. The board is also discussing some exciting new ideas (HVAC technician Olympics, anyone?) that will continue to bring involvement to our organization.

I am really looking forward to the upcoming year and giving back to a trade that has given me so much.

With hope for the new year,

Tony Kiser

Another Reason to Smile

Crossing the Canadian Border

An elderly couple was crossing the Canadian border to go to their winter recluses in Florida. At the crossing they were stopped by an over-zealous border guard, on his first day at work. He commenced to ask the couple a battery of questions.

The husband, on behalf of his almost deaf wife, answered the barrage of queries.

Officer: "Where are you going?"

Husband: "We're on vacation and going to Florida."

Wife: "What did he say? What did he say?"

Husband: "He wants to know where we're going."

Officer: "How long will you be gone?"

Husband: "About one month."

Wife: "What did he say? What did he say?"

Husband: "He wants to know how long we'll be gone."

Officer: "Where are you from?"

Husband: "We're from Toronto, Ontario."

Officer: "Toronto, huh. I was there once. Nice city."

Had the worst romantic experience in my life."

Wife: "What did he say? What did he say?"

Husband: "He says he knows you!"

Become Certified

PBACCA will provide a proctor upon request for onsite testing.

The E.P.A. has established a Mandatory Technician Certification Program. Technicians are required to become certified under the mandatory program. Under the final E.P.A. rule, the sale of refrigerant will be restricted to certified technicians.

For more information on EPA testing call Pam at 561-585-3880.

OUR MISSION: To assist and better enable PBACCA members to acquire, serve and satisfy their customers.

Apprenticeship Corner

Need Qualified Technicians?

The next time you have an opening for a technician, call the local Apprenticeship office at 561-262-7523. They can help you find a qualified apprentice to hire and enroll in the local PBACCA sponsored Apprenticeship Program offered at Palm Beach Community College. You'll be sure your employee is being taught the right skills and acquiring the training to become a productive journey man.
